Simplify employment related screening

WorkPro Customisation Opportunities

A QUICK OVERVIEW

- WorkPro is a robust web-based employment screening solution.
- WorkPro centralises fundamental employment-related processes - induction training, visa check and an instant national criminal check service to assist in rapidly preparing an employee for work.
- Delivers the Federal Government's 'Fair Work Statement' to all workers, with full reporting capability to meet compliance requirements.
- Fully hosted, it also offers the option to tailor and customise your own training & content.
- Over 400 company's and 100's of thousands of individuals are using WorkPro today as their screening and compliance solution of choice.

CUSTOMISATION

Options:

- Branding the solution for your own corporate identity purposes.
- Custom login
- Ability to remove induction and training courses that are not relevant to your business.
- Upload and deliver tailored course content in addition to generic courses.

Benefits:

- User's can only access the course content through the provision of a module access code, provided by your staff.
- No hardware is necessary and no software maintenance is required.
- There is no reliance on external resources to keep your course content updated.
- Full customisation means the solution appears proprietary-owned without the significant overheads.
- You can offer your Clients a managed service for training by uploading their site-specific induction.

A CASE STUDY

The customer required:

- A custom login
- Development of a tailored template so the solution appeared proprietary-owned by Users.
- Customised branding at the website and portal level.
- A client induction module to be made available to their employees.
- The use of all of the existing WorkPro course library for their contract and permanent staff.

Some people think recruitment is all about jobs. We disagree. At Horner Recruitment, we know it's all about you and we commit ourselves to matching your skills with the right job, time after time.

Horner Recruitment has been helping you attain job satisfaction for more than 30 years.

We're not the biggest recruitment firm around but our knowledge and technology is equal to any in the industry, and we believe the support and service we provide is actually better because we haven't lost sight of what's really important...you!

So, thanks for selecting Horner Recruitment as your recruiter of choice. As part of working with us, we want you to know that we are also committed to ensuring that you are safe from risk whilst at work. Part of that commitment is to provide a relevant but timely induction course.

You are about to complete a 30 minute induction course that will outline some of the most common risks and hazards in the job that you have applied for. Once you have completed this module, you will be ready to commence work. To start your course, click on the induction link above and select the course that has been requested by your Horner consultant, and good luck.

WorkPro built a customised portal experience so that once the user was logged in, the pages emphasised and reflected Horner's corporate identity and branding, and the sharing of key corporate messages.

Horner elected to utilise all of WorkPro's course library, and upload an additional customised module, to provide a centralised point of training for the user.

5. ADDITIONAL OPTIONS

- Tailored course/s can be provided to WorkPro to upload and host, or the content can be converted into HTML and hosted on your own web-server, and linked to from the WorkPro portal – allowing you to maintain control and updates of content.
- WorkPro can provide a fully-hosted service for your course/s, including designing a course template, and uploading content and competency-based assessment if required.
